1.2 The CPAC has been established by the College Board to coordinate consistent and effective policy and advocacy across the College.

1.3 CPAC will be the peak decision-making body for health related policy and advocacy in each country.

1.4 Decision making on specialty-specific and region-specific issues is delegated to the appropriate College body in line with the CPAC Delegation Model, with the College body:

- keeping the CPAC informed on a noting basis
- keeping the Policy & Advocacy team informed so that they can provide support and identify and advise on risks, particularly relating to:
 - the relationship with government and key external stakeholders
 - the need to consult with other College Bodies.

1.5 All policy and advocacy bodies in the College will provide advice to and report to the CPAC.

1.6 Policy and Advocacy

In matters of policy and advocacy, the CPAC has been established to:

- a) Consult with all College Bodies involved with policy and advocacy matters to establish the key policy priorities and activities for the whole College for approval by the College Board, in a manner that aligns the needs of Members and the community;
- b) Communicate the approved policy and advocacy priorities across the College in line with the approved priorities;
- c) Consult with Specialty Societies and other external bodies on policy and advocacy matters and priorities where appropriate, to maximise effective outcomes;
- d) Work with all College Bodies on policy and advocacy positions and activities, including working with the College Education Committee on policy and advocacy matters relevant to education and training;
- e) Respond in a timely and relevant manner to emerging policy and advocacy issues that are relevant to the College Fellows, trainees and the community;
- f) Promote the role of the College, Fellows and trainees, including:
 - A College-wide communication strategy that focusses on the role of Fellows and trainees in improving the quality and safety of health care in Australia and New Zealand; and
 - Supporting the work of the College with government and other key stakeholders, on regulatory, legal and legislative arrangements, which are of strategic importance for the College, Fellowship and trainees and the community.

These functions will be exercised by the CPAC, except to the extent that they are delegated to the Executive Committee in writing.
